

NEW! Digital Exams

London College of Music Examinations (LCME) has partnered with the International School of Musicians (ISoM) to provide a unique secure video platform for candidates to take their exams online. Thousands of exams have already been completed.

Anytime, anywhere

You can now enter your candidates for online or recorded exams at a time that suits them 24/7, 365. What's more, candidates can sit their exam whenever they are ready rather than having to wait for a summer or winter session. Exams will be conducted by the same LCME examiners as you are used to working with.

It couldn't be easier

Candidates at any level, from beginners to accomplished performers seeking a diploma, have the option of taking a recorded or online exam for almost all music and performance subjects. All you need is a strong internet connection and a laptop.
